Note to parents:

This list is a broad selection of notable authors that is intended to be used as a general guide to help your child foster an appreciation for literature. The love of reading goes hand in hand with the ability to read well, which in turn provides a solid foundation for lifelong learning and academic success. A great way to encourage the love of reading is to read to your child often and allow him/her to choose topics they are interested in.

Happy Reading!
